In 2008, Governor Tim Kaine awarded Jim Warren and Ralph Alan Cohen the Virginia Governor's Award for the Arts for their work with the American Shakespeare Center, which they founded in 1988. In 2015, The Folger Shakespeare Library awarded the ASC with its Shakespeare Steward Award for its contributions in Shakespeare education. In 2016, the Arts Council of the Shenandoah Valley awarded the ASC its Circle of Excellence Award. In 2017, the Virginia Commission for the Arts named the ASC one of its "50 for 50 Arts Inspirations" in the category of Bedrock Institutions.

Jim Warren is the Founding Artistic Director of the American Shakespeare Center. He directed the ASC's first show, Richard III (in which he played Buckingham), and a total of 128 productions, including 32 of Shakespeare's 38 plays; he produced and cast over 280 shows during his tenure. Jim co-founded the ASC in 1988 as the traveling troupe Shenandoah Shakespeare Express. He grew the ASC touring scope from fourteen performances of Richard III in Virginia to over two hundred performances of three full-length Shakespeare plays and one modern classic in six countries during 1995; by the end of the millennium, the ASC touring arm had also performed in 47 states and one U.S. territory. In 2001, the ASC opened the Blackfriars Playhouse, the world's only re-creation of Shakespeare's indoor theatre. By the end of the 2016/17 Artistic Year, the ASC operating budget was over $3.5 million and the company was offering over 360 performances of sixteen titles annually.

Before retiring from the ASC in 2017 to launch a solo career as a consultant, director, and educator, Jim created Shakespeare's New Contemporaries, a groundbreaking undertaking to develop a new canon of 38 plays that are inspired by and in conversation with Shakespeare's work. The project integrates Jim's passion for the classics, new plays, and an inclusive expansion of the artistic community.

New Plays Brainchild: Shakespeare's New Contemporaries

Shakespeare's New Contemporaries is an industry-changing undertaking to develop a new canon of 38 plays that vibrate off of and are inspired by Shakespeare's work. The project provides an opportunity for playwrights of every gender, race, and creed to partner with Shakespeare. It's our chance to find the next generation of the world's greatest playwrights.

If there were ever a time in this country for new Shakespeares to emerge, as we wrestle with the many challenges that face us, that time is now. 'Shakespeare's New Contemporaries' is a timely, brilliant, and innovative competition, one that will attract both emerging and established playwrights. Like Shakespeare himself, who was inspired by earlier dramatists, these playwrights will help us grapple with the present while shaping our future.

– James Shapiro, Columbia University

Jim Warren is the kind of Artistic Director I aspire to become some day. Endlessly talented, informed, and able to inspire a deep passion for the work in everyone around him.

– Evan Hoffman, former ASC actor; current Artistic Director of NextStop Theatre; Alexandria, VA

Jim Warren is the best boss, best director, and best man I have ever worked for; I am still learning from him every single day.

– Patrick Midgley, former ASC actor, Presidential Fellow & PH.D Student at Texas Tech University

Jim Warren is a beast of a man. Watching his rehearsals of As You Like It, Othello, and the “last chance” Hamlet were great, life-changingly-good courses in those plays, theatre, and fun...

Two of the best times I've had in a theatre were The Rehearsal and Bloody, Bloody Andrew Jackson. I can only describe the feeling of my mind melting into a giant puddle of goop and the frenetic energy in that room.
